Firm Description

G4 Financial Planning, LLC (“G4”) was founded in 2023. Henry Gibson-Garcia is 100% owner. G4 currently reports $0 discretionary and non-discretionary Assets Under Management. Assets Under Management were calculated as of December 31, 2024.

Types of Advisory Services

INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT SERVICES

G4 offers ongoing and continuous investment management and advice. Through an annual goal setting process and comprehensive financial plan, G4 builds an Investment Policy Statement for clients. Asset allocations are built based upon conversations, questionnaires, and an accounting of the client’s financial risk capacity. G4 then uses the Investment Policy Statement to dictate how managed accounts will be rebalanced throughout the year.

As part of Investment Management Services, G4 offers Financial Planning Services. Financial Planning Services are concurrent with Investment Management, and not offered in a stand-alone capacity.

Financial planning services include a comprehensive evaluation of an investor's current and future financial state and will be provided by using currently known variables to predict future cash flows, asset values and withdrawal plans. G4 will use current net worth, tax liabilities, asset allocation, and future retirement and estate plans in developing financial plans.

Typical topics reviewed in a financial plan may include but are not limited to:

- Financial goals: Based on an individual's or a family's clearly defined financial goals, including funding a college education for the children, buying a larger home, starting a business, retiring on time or leaving a legacy. Financial goals should be quantified and set to milestones for tracking.
- Personal net worth statement: A snapshot of assets and liabilities serves as a benchmark for measuring progress towards financial goals.
- Cash flow analysis: An income and spending plan determines how much can be set aside for debt repayment, savings and investing each month.
- Retirement strategy: A strategy for achieving retirement independent of other financial priorities. Including a strategy for accumulating the required retirement capital and its planned lifetime distribution.
- Comprehensive risk management plan: Identify all risk exposures and provide the necessary coverage to protect the family and its assets against financial loss. The risk management plan includes a full review of life and disability insurance, personal liability coverage, property and casualty coverage, and catastrophic coverage.
- Long-term investment plan: Include a customized asset allocation strategy based on specific investment objectives and a risk profile. This investment plan sets guidelines for selecting, buying and selling investments and establishing benchmarks for performance review.

- Tax reduction strategy: Identify ways to minimize taxes on personal income to the extent permissible by the tax code. The strategy should include identification of tax-favored investment vehicles that can reduce taxation of investment income.
- Estate preservation: Help update accounts, review beneficiaries for retirement accounts and life insurance, provide a second look at your current estate planning documents, and prompt you to update your plan when the legal environment changes or you have major life events such as a marriage, death, or births.

PROJECT BASED FINANCIAL PLANNING SERVICES

CONSULTATION SERVICES

This service is appropriate for clients who need assistance with individual topics. This is not a detailed financial review and will not provide/result in a complete or comprehensive financial plan. Client may select individual topics above, or other topics as may be deemed appropriate. The individual topics that will be included in this service will be outlined and agreed upon on the financial planning and consulting agreement.

If a conflict of interest exists between the interests of G4 and the interests of the Client, the Client is under no obligation to act upon G4's recommendation. If the Client elects to act on any of the recommendations, the Client is under no obligation to effect the transaction through G4.

EDUCATIONAL WEBINARS AND SEMINARS

G4 offers educational webinars and in-person seminars for groups of people wanting to learn more about investing principles or general financial planning. These are purely for educational purposes and do not include the sale of investment products. The seminars are educational in nature and no specific investment or tax advice is given.

Pro Bono Services

G4 is committed to expanding access to financial planning services. As part of this commitment, the Firm accepts a limited number of pro bono clients who meet certain eligibility criteria. Pro bono services are provided at no cost and are subject to the same standard of care as fee-paying engagements.

Client Tailored Services and Client Imposed Restrictions

The goals and objectives for each Client are documented in our Client files. Investment strategies are created that reflect the stated goals and objectives. Clients may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities. Agreements may not be assigned without written Client consent.

Wrap Fee Programs

G4 does not sponsor any wrap fee programs.

Client Assets under Management

As of December 31, 2024, G4 does not manage Client assets. Investment management services were introduced in January 2025.

Item 5: Fees and Compensation

Method of Compensation and Fee Schedule

INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT SERVICES

G4 charges fixed fees based on complexity and unique Client needs for financial planning. Prior to the planning process the Client will be provided an estimated plan fee. Client may cancel within five (5) business days of signing Agreement with no obligation and without penalty. If the Client cancels after five (5) business days, any unearned fees will be refunded to the Client, or any unpaid earned fees will be due to G4.

G4 Charges a $250 Onboarding Fee for any of the financial planning services indicated below that is non-refundable. This Onboarding Fee is negotiable and may be waived at advisor discretion.

Fee Structure

G4 charges a tiered fee based on the client's Net Worth, recalculated on an annual basis or upon a major life event, with a minimum monthly fee of $29 (or $348 annually). The fees are calculated as follows:

Net Worth	Fee
First $50,000	0.6%
$50,000 - $200,000	0.5%
Over $200,000	0.4%

Fees are calculated based upon best estimate of Net Worth available. Final fees may differ slightly due to rounding at the advisor's discretion.

Minimum Fee: $29/month ($348/year).

No 12b-1 Fees: G4 does not charge any 12b-1 fees.

Payment Terms: Fees are paid in advance. Clients may cancel their services with 30 days' notice, which will cover the cost of transitioning away from our custodian. Since payments are monthly, termination is handled by simply canceling the next scheduled payment.

Fee Adjustments and Negotiability:

G4's fees are structured to reflect the complexity and scope of the services provided. Under certain circumstances, fees may be adjusted or negotiated to accommodate unique client situations. This may include, but is not limited to:

- Family members, long-term clients, or clients experiencing financial hardship who may qualify for discounted or waived fees.

- Clients whose financial situations have significantly increased in complexity due to substantial growth in assets, business operations, or other factors requiring enhanced planning and advisory services.

Any fee adjustments or discounts will be communicated in writing, documented, and agreed upon prior to implementation. All other aspects of the fee structure, including minimum fees, will remain in effect unless explicitly waived.

Additional Information

The fees are calculated based on the client's total Net Worth and are billed on a monthly basis, as agreed upon at the outset of the engagement. The fee schedule ensures that clients are charged in proportion to their financial resources. G4's fee is payable in advance, and any service termination will result in a cancellation of the following month's payment

EDUCATIONAL WORKSHOPS

G4 holds seminars and workshops to educate the public on financial foundations and investment basics. The seminars are educational in nature and no specific investment or tax advice is given. G4 fees are negotiable and are based upon reasonable expenses.

Fees for educational workshops are due upon commencement of the agreement.

Pro Bono Services

G4 offers comprehensive financial planning services at no charge to qualifying individuals. Eligibility for pro bono services is determined at the sole discretion of the Firm and may be based on factors such as household income, financial hardship, or referral through a recognized nonprofit or financial planning organization such as the CFP Board's pro bono program.

Pro bono clients receive the same scope of services and standard of care as fee-paying clients. The terms of any pro bono engagement, including the scope of services and $0 fee arrangement, will be documented in a written advisory agreement prior to the commencement of services. G4 reserves the right to limit the number of pro bono engagements accepted at any given time.

Client Payment of Fees

All fees will be billed to the Client and paid directly to G4 via electronic funds transfer. G4 uses third party payment processors into which Client can securely input payment information. G4 never has access to Client banking and credit card information at any time.

Additional Client Fees Charged

There are no additional charges to disclose.

Prepayment of Client Fees

G4 does not require any prepayment of fees of more than $500 per Client and six months or more in advance.

Account Minimums

G4 does not require a minimum to open an account, but does have a minimum fee of $29/mo ($348/year).

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

G4 primarily employs Functional Asset Allocation to analyze a client's financial position. This methodology focuses on aligning investment strategies with the functional roles of a client's assets rather than solely relying on traditional asset class diversification.

The analysis process includes:

- Risk Tolerance and Risk Capacity: Both a client's willingness to take on risk and ability to absorb potential losses are assessed to ensure the investment strategy aligns with emotional comfort and financial circumstances.
- Financial Life Stage Considerations: Asset allocation strategies are tailored based on the client's financial life stage, whether in wealth accumulation, pre-retirement, or distribution phases.

- Function-Based Portfolio Construction: Portfolios are designed to meet distinct financial objectives, such as providing liquidity, ensuring long-term growth, or facilitating legacy planning, while managing overall risk exposure.

This comprehensive approach supports the development of adaptable financial plans suited to clients' evolving needs.

Investment Strategy

G4 employs a passive investment strategy, utilizing exchange-traded funds (ETFs) and mutual funds to achieve broad diversification across uncorrelated assets. This approach allows for efficient portfolio construction while minimizing unnecessary trading costs.

Investment strategies are grounded in Modern Portfolio Theory (MPT) and the Efficient Market Hypothesis (EMH) to balance risk and reward, ensuring portfolios align with each client's risk capacity. Diversification is prioritized to mitigate volatility while seeking consistent, long-term returns.

To maintain cost efficiency, investments are made using no-load funds, helping clients avoid unnecessary expenses that can erode returns over time.

Investment strategies are also tax-aware, aiming to enhance tax efficiency within the constraints of each client's financial goals. Portfolio construction and rebalancing decisions consider tax implications, helping to minimize tax liabilities where possible.

General Market Risks

Investing in securities involves various risks that clients should carefully consider. While diversification and strategic planning aim to mitigate certain risks, it is important to understand that no investment strategy can guarantee profit or protect against loss in declining markets. General market risks encompass broader economic and market-wide factors that may affect the overall value of investments regardless of individual securities. These risks include, but are not limited to:

Market Risk: The risk that the value of investments will fluctuate due to changes in overall market conditions. Economic developments, political events, natural disasters, and changes in investor sentiment can all cause market volatility, potentially leading to losses.

Interest Rate Risk: Bond and fixed-income investments are sensitive to changes in interest rates. Generally, when interest rates rise, bond prices fall, potentially reducing the value of fixed-income investments.

Inflation Risk: The possibility that inflation will erode the purchasing power of investment returns. Even investments with positive nominal returns may lose real value if inflation outpaces returns.

Liquidity Risk: Certain investments may not be easily sold or converted to cash without significant price concessions, particularly during times of market stress or for investments in less liquid asset classes.

Currency Risk: For investments in foreign securities, changes in currency exchange rates can affect the value of returns. Fluctuations in currency markets may lead to gains or losses independent of asset performance.

Political and Regulatory Risk: Changes in government policies, tax laws, or regulations may affect investment returns. Regulatory shifts can have significant impacts on specific industries or markets.

Reinvestment Risk: The risk that proceeds from matured or sold investments may have to be reinvested at lower rates, potentially reducing income or returns.

Concentration Risk: Investing heavily in a particular asset class, sector, or geographic region increases exposure to risks affecting those specific areas, potentially amplifying losses if those investments underperform.

Tax Risk: Investment decisions may have tax consequences. Although G4 implements tax-aware strategies, tax laws can change, potentially affecting the expected tax benefits of certain investments.

Cybersecurity and Operational Risk: Operational failures, including cybersecurity breaches, technological disruptions, or human error, may impair access to investment accounts or compromise sensitive client information.

Security-Specific Risks

While general market risks affect the broader investment landscape, security-specific risks pertain to the characteristics and conditions of individual investments. Clients should understand how these risks can impact their portfolio:

Equity Risk: Investments in stocks and stock-based funds are subject to equity risk. Stock prices may fluctuate based on company performance, broader market trends, industry developments, or economic factors.

Credit Risk: The risk that a bond issuer or borrower may default on interest payments or principal repayment, impacting the value of fixed-income securities.

Manager Risk: Investments managed by third parties, such as mutual funds or ETFs, are subject to the risk that the fund manager's decisions may not achieve desired outcomes.

ETF and Mutual Fund Risk: While ETFs and mutual funds offer diversification, they still carry risks related to the underlying securities they hold. Tracking errors, management fees, and liquidity issues can affect their performance.

Passive Investment Risk: G4 employs a passive investment approach, which aims to replicate market indices rather than outperform them. In rapidly changing or declining markets, passive strategies may not offer the flexibility to mitigate losses.

Item 9: Disciplinary Information

G4 and its management have not been involved in any criminal or civil action.

Recommendations or Selections of Other Investment Advisors and Conflicts of Interest

G4 does not select or recommend other investment advisors.

Item 11: Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics Description

The affiliated persons (affiliated persons include affiliated persons and/or independent contractors) of G4 have committed to a Code of Ethics ("Code"). The purpose of our Code is to set forth standards of conduct expected of G4 affiliated persons and addresses conflicts that may arise. The Code defines acceptable behavior for affiliated persons of G4. The Code reflects G4 and its supervised persons' responsibility to act in the best interest of their Client.

One area which the Code addresses is when affiliated persons buy or sell securities for their personal accounts and how to mitigate any conflict of interest with our Clients. We do not allow any affiliated persons to use non-public material information for their personal profit or to use internal research for their personal benefit in conflict with the benefit to our Clients.

G4's policy prohibits any person from acting upon or otherwise misusing non-public or inside information. No advisory representative or other affiliated person, officer or director of G4 may recommend any transaction in a security or its derivative to advisory Clients or engage in personal securities transactions for a security or its derivatives if the advisory representative possesses material, non-public information regarding the security.

G4's Code is based on the guiding principle that the interests of the Client are our top priority. G4's officers, directors, advisors, and other affiliated persons have a fiduciary duty to our Clients and must diligently perform that duty to maintain the complete trust and confidence of our Clients. When a conflict arises, it is our obligation to put the Client's interests over the interests of either affiliated persons or the company.

The Code applies to "access" persons. "Access" persons are affiliated persons who have access to non-public information regarding any Clients' purchase or sale of securities, or non-public information regarding the portfolio holdings of any reportable fund, who are involved in making securities recommendations to Clients, or who have access to such recommendations that are non-public.

G4 will provide a copy of the Code of Ethics to any Client or prospective Client upon request.

Investment Recommendations Involving a Material Financial Interest and Conflict of Interest

G4 and its affiliated persons do not recommend to Clients securities in which we have a material financial interest.

Advisory Firm Purchase of Same Securities Recommended to Clients and Conflicts of Interest

G4 does not maintain a firm proprietary trading account and does not have a material financial interest in any securities being recommended and therefore no conflicts of interest exist.

Client Securities Recommendations or Trades and Concurrent Advisory Firm Securities Transactions and Conflicts of Interest

G4 does not maintain a firm proprietary trading account and does not have a material financial interest in any securities being recommended and therefore no conflicts of interest exist.

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

Factors Used to Select Broker-Dealers for Client Transactions

G4 is not affiliated with any broker-dealer or with Altruist, the custodian typically recommended to clients. Custodian recommendations are based on the client's individual needs, and the selection is informed by the custodian's overall service offerings, reputation, and ability to meet client requirements.

When recommending custodians, G4 has an obligation to seek what is known as “best execution” for client transactions. While cost is a consideration, the primary focus is on the overall quality of execution and the breadth of services provided. Factors considered in this evaluation include, but are not limited to:

- Integrated transaction execution and asset custody services, often without separate custody fees
- Ability to efficiently execute, clear, and settle transactions
- Capability to process account transfers and client-directed payments (such as wires, check requests, and bill payments)
- Access to a wide range of investment options, including stocks, bonds, mutual funds, and ETFs
- Availability of research tools that assist in making informed investment decisions
- Quality and consistency of services provided
- Competitive pricing on services, including transaction fees and account-related costs
- Financial stability, security measures, and overall reputation of the custodian
- Past experience with the custodian’s service to G4 and its clients

Based on these factors, G4 generally recommends clients open brokerage accounts with Altruist. While clients are free to select a custodian of their choosing, G4 advises that doing so may limit the ability to achieve optimal execution or access certain services. Clients retain ultimate discretion by executing account agreements directly with their chosen custodian.

Custodial Support Services and Potential Conflicts of Interest Altruist provides access to institutional-level services for independent advisory firms like G4. These services, offered without direct cost to G4, include rebalancing software, trade execution capabilities, and custodial support that streamline account management. Although these resources benefit G4 operationally, they are not contingent upon any specific trading activity or transaction volume.

While G4 prioritizes its fiduciary duty to act in clients’ best interests, the receipt of support services from Altruist may present a perceived conflict of interest. To mitigate this, G4 regularly reviews custodian relationships to ensure that recommendations align with client needs and do not compromise service quality or execution standards.

Brokerage and Custody Costs Altruist typically does not charge separate fees for custody. Instead, clients may incur standard transaction costs or other fees based on their investment activity. Certain securities, such as many mutual funds and ETFs, may not involve transaction fees.

Brokerage Referrals G4 does not receive any compensation or client referrals from custodians, broker-dealers, or third parties in exchange for recommending their services.

Client-Directed Custodian Selection While G4 may recommend a preferred custodian, clients are free to direct their accounts to custodians of their choice. Clients should be aware that using a custodian other than Altruist may result in higher transaction costs or less favorable execution of trades.

Aggregating Securities Transactions for Client Accounts

Trade Aggregation Policy G4 executes client trades individually and does not engage in block or aggregated trading. Although block trading may reduce transaction costs in some cases, G4's approach prioritizes individualized investment strategies tailored to each client's goals. Since client portfolios are constructed with a long-term perspective, any minor differences in trade execution prices are not expected to materially impact performance.

Item 13: Review of Accounts

Schedule for Periodic Review of Client Accounts or Financial Plans and Advisory Persons Involved

Client accounts under G4's Investment Management Service are subject to continuous and ongoing monitoring. Formal reviews occur at least annually to ensure alignment with the client's investment objectives, financial goals, and risk tolerance. Reviews are also conducted in response to certain events, including but not limited to significant market fluctuations, unusual account performance, material changes in a client's financial situation, client-directed modifications to investment restrictions, or substantial portfolio drawdowns.

Clients receive trade confirmations directly from the custodian for each transaction, along with regular monthly or quarterly account statements and annual tax documents reflecting all account activity, including dividend and interest receipts. G4 provides written reports to clients engaged in ongoing financial planning services at least once a year. Clients are encouraged to compare G4's reports with the statements provided by their custodian to ensure consistency and accuracy.

Item 14: Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Economic benefits provided to the Advisory Firm from External Sources and Conflicts of Interest

G4 does not receive any economic benefits from external sources.

Advisory Firm Payments for Client Referrals

G4 does not compensate for Client referrals.

Item 15: Custody

Account Statements

G4 does not accept custody of client accounts. Clients can expect to receive quarterly statements from the qualified custodian responsible for holding and maintaining their investment assets. It is strongly recommended that clients carefully review these custodial statements and compare them to any reports or statements provided by G4. Discrepancies may arise due to differences in accounting methods, valuation techniques, or reporting dates for certain securities. Clients are encouraged to reach out with any questions or concerns regarding account activity or report variances.

Item 16: Investment Discretion

Discretionary Authority for Trading

For those client accounts where G4 provides Investment Management Services, G4 maintains discretion with respect to securities to be bought and sold and the amount of securities to be bought and sold. Investment discretion is explained to clients in detail when an advisory relationship has commenced. Clients will grant discretionary authority over account management as a part of the account opening application. Additionally, the discretionary relationship will be outlined in the advisory contract and signed by the client.

Item 17: Voting Client Securities

Proxy Votes

G4 does not vote proxies on securities. Clients are expected to vote their own proxies. The Client will receive their proxies directly from the custodian of their account or from a transfer agent. In the event G4 does receive any written or electronic proxy materials, G4 will forward them directly to the client by mail, or electronically if client has so authorized.

G4 does not render advice to clients with respect to voting. Clients should direct all proxy questions to the issuer of the security.

Item 18: Financial Information

Balance Sheet

A balance sheet is not required to be provided to Clients because G4 does not serve as a custodian for Client funds or securities and G4 does not require prepayment of fees of more than $500 per Client and six months or more in advance.

Financial Conditions Reasonably Likely to Impair Advisory Firm's Ability to Meet Commitments to Clients

G4 has no condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to our Clients.

Bankruptcy Petitions during the Past Ten Years

G4 has not had any bankruptcy petitions in the last ten years.
